en Route! A Touring Dance Project

Next Reflex Dance Collective in collaboration with Light Switch Dance Theatre present en Route A Touring Dance Project, a one-night dance event at the Hurley Convergence Center’s Digital Auditorium on the campus of University of Mary Washington in Fredericksburg, VA. The performance is a collaboration between local Fredericksburg dance artists and artists from Northern VA and MD. Homegrown artists include Semilla Cultural, Ashely Culberson and the University of Mary Washington Dance Company. NRDC artists Kristin Hatleberg, Covenant Babatunde and Michelle Hayes and LSDT artist Sandra Atkinson (Founder/Artistic Director) fill in the roster of choreography that make up this diverse and exciting dance program.

The program opens with the sounds of Semilla Cultural embracing Puerto Rican culture and art through their work Blend, telling stories that go from miscegenation and the arising of a diverse culture, freedom, unity, and bomba as a music genre and lifestyle. Ashley Culberson presents We are One a touching solo performed in honor of her mom who is a breast cancer survivor. Michelle Hayes’s duet Untitled Change comments on the struggle of change challenging the audience with a sense of urgency in the movement. Sandra Atkinson presents a solo NorthBound about the Great Migration where a large number of African American’s moved North for better economic and racial conditions. A small amount of something that remains after the main part has gone fills Covenant Babatunde’s trio Residue. Kristin Hatleberg’s solo I have met peace draws on the teachings of Robert Davidson to create a moment of breath, joy, and vitality. Other works on the program include a touching and thoughtful trio from the University of Mary Washington and a group work entitled Letter to our World asking and responding to questions about the state of our world.

en Route! is a touring dance project that facilitates performances for local artists in areas that Next Reflex Dance Collective selects each year. The company works on a collaborative level with the community’s theaters and artists to produce a one or two night performance offering an array of accessible work targeting a new to dance audience. Such Collaboration builds local awareness and generates interest in the dance scenes in these locations. Audiences are not only exposed to the work of their own local artists but also from artists of other communities who are involved in en route! that year. Since 2007, en Route! has toured throughout Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia.
